

$500 BURSARY AVAILABLE FOR NOVA SCOTIA STUDENTS
IN 3RD YEAR OF STUDY IN THE FOLLOWING PROGRAM:
Faculty of Forestry and Environmental Management; UNB
Forest Ecosystem Management Program

This award is intended to create awareness of, and future participation in, the various professional forestry associations in Canada, and more particularly in Nova Scotia. The Council of the RPFANS will make a decision annually regarding the availability of this award. Email the Executive Director at contact@rpfans.ca for current information.

ELIGIBILITY:

The Registered Professional Foresters Association of Nova Scotia (RPFANS) is pleased to make this award available to students residing in Nova Scotia who are in their 3rd year of study in the above program.

CRITERIA:

This bursary is intended to reward a deserving Nova Scotia student enrolled in the above program. Factors that will be considered in making the award include:

1. participation in Forestry Faculty activities;
2. participation in university activities;
3. participation in high school activities;
4. academic competence and awards(if any);
5. participation in summer activity that prepares for future career;
6. participation in professional associations;
7. recommendations of faculty;
8. the overall impression of the students written application.

APPLICATION PROCESS:

Eligible students will prepare a report / application, in electronic format, which describes their eligibility, their achievements and their participation relative to the above criteria. Completed reports/ applications, titled "Application for RPFANS Bursary" are to be submitted to the Outreach Coordinator in the Faculty of Forestry and Environmental Management, by December 1, of the current calendar year.

SELECTION PROCESS:

Faculty will review the students' report / application and provide a comment to RPFANS on the students' suitability for the bursary. Faculty will then submit the applications to the RPFANS Executive Director, including any comments, for the consideration and final selection by the RPFANS Council. It is anticipated that the award will be made within 60 days.
